By Bibhas De

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . In February of 2016 the LIGO Scientific Collaboration announced the detection of gravitational wave predicted by Albert Einstein a hundred years ago, and the observation therewith of the violent merger of two black holes. The finding was made using the billion-dollar LIGO instrument, and was hailed around the world as one of the greatest discoveries in human history. This book shows that the instrument was fatally flawed in many ways and in many layers. These faults were completely understandable by the scientific establishment. Yet they rallied round the discovery and proceeded forcefully to install it as clinched science, ready to enter children s textbooks around the world. The many dissident voices of scientific reasoning that arose from outside the establishment were totally ignored. National governments and legislative bodies came forward to powerfully endorse the discovery. The discovery was one of the greatest scams in human history. Its support by the establishment was the ultimate act of intellectual corruption against the citizens of the world, and a blatant act of deceiving the American taxpayers.
